and a few GT4RS's and Spyder RS's. They also support racing and have several maintenance areas.

Just in time for the outdoors concours, we rose to rain and cold on Friday morning. Not much you can do, but deal with it. Luckily it was not a deluge but a light steady rain lasted most of the morning and it did not warm up. Everyone showed their cars and we still had a good time. Of course there were some rare and pretty cars at the Holiday and this is where we got to see them all. The event was at the Olympic Museum grounds with the street blocked for us to park on. We had lunch at the facility before heading back to the resort. More tech sessions rounded out the afternoon. Time for a reception and the awards banquet at 5:30. Again the resort staff did a great job and the food was great. Again I was "networking" for our Lexington Holiday next year.

Now for the beyond: If you follow along you know we seldom just go to one place, this trip was no different. In 2023 when we attended Porsche Parade in Palm Springs, CA we drove about 6500 miles in 21 days or so. We attended many National Parks but couldn't get in at Arches. So we decided to go to Arches this trip. After leaving Colorado Springs we overnighted in Montrose, CO on our way to Moab, Utah and Arches National Park. We spent a day and a half here and enjoyed the park immensely. The landscape and all the arches are just breathtaking. On Monday evening we went into the park after dinner and hiked about 4 miles returning to the parking lot at dusk. We pulled out the camping chairs and watched the moon rise. Wow was it incredible! It looked 10 times bigger and twice as bright as normal. It was a great end to a wonderful day.

Our next stop was Mesa Verda National Park. It was about a 3 hour drive from Moab. We had thought ahead and gotten on a guided tour of the Cliff Palace. It is the largest community in the area with around 100 rooms. How often do you get to walk through such a historically important scene? Learning about the Pueblo who had lived here was fascinating. After the tour we drove around the park and checked out many of the ruins, both in the cliffs and on top of the Mesa. We left the park and arrived in Durango for a night.
